Lily Nie and Joshua Zhong on Asian Adoptions

Born in China, the husband and wife team Lily Nie and Joshua Zhong came to the USA in 1987 and later founded Chinese Children Adoption International in 1992 to find permanent homes for abandoned Chinese children. With over 8,800 successful placements, CCAI is considered the largest and one of the most respected international adoption agencies in the USA. Both Lily and Joshua received the congressional Angels in Adoption award in 2003 and the Colorado Parents of the Year award in 2007. Lily was inducted into the Colorado Women Hall of Fame in 2008. She was a licensed attorney in China, practicing business and family law. She also received her B.A in Human Resource Management and an MBA in the USA. Joshua left his university teaching position in 1986 to pursue his graduate and post-graduate studies in the USA. They have three children, Art, Amy and Anna who was adopted in 2004.
